

My Life: A Passion for Membranes

During the TensiNet-EMS Symposium in Essen last week, Roberto Canobbio gave a wonderful lecture entitled 'My Life: A Passion for Membranes'. His achievements are impressive, as is the way in which he achieved them. He is an inspiring person.

Here are just a few quotes:

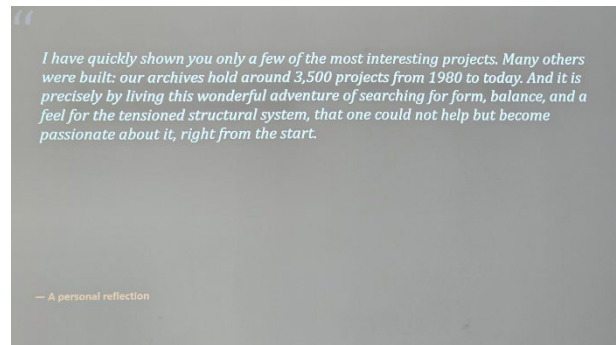

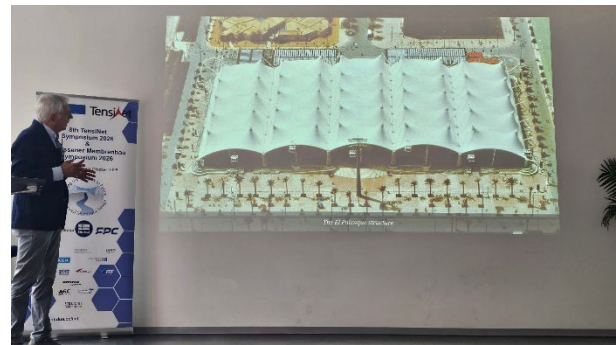

While making a physical model, you are thinking.

Collaborate with competitors.

Combine experiences ranging from mounting circus tents to German engineering.

Thank you, Roberto!

For detailed information on the projects see <https://www.canobbio.com/en/> and the TensiNet database.